

Restrictive eating: medical coordination and supported participation

Original support worksheet | Adults | Reviewed 2026-10-10

Use fictional or appropriately de-identified notes. Write, draw, dictate or point. Not a validated measure, diagnostic test or crisis service.

Reported difficulty: Intake, symptoms, access

Medical assessment: Stability and contributors

Clinical formulation: Beliefs, fears, sensory factors

Agreed team plan: Roles, communication, supports

Participation review: Feasibility, burden, deterioration

What makes eating difficult and what has changed

Physical concerns and medical contact/owner

Agreed specialist plan and support I accept

Access barriers, review date and urgent contact route

Next step: who will do what, by when, and how will we review helpfulness or harm?

Fainting, severe weakness, dehydration, chest symptoms, rapid deterioration or other signs of medical instability require prompt medical assessment. Any body size can involve serious risk. Do not give refeeding or purging-management instructions from this tool.